

Remove PST from Insurance Premiums

WHEREAS the purchase of insurance for personal property, such as homes and vehicles, is a vitally important (and often mandatory) step in protecting the value of one's assets in the face of an unfortunate event;

WHEREAS in the face of increasingly expensive and more frequent natural disasters putting unsustainable pressure on public disaster assistance programs, taking such personal responsibility to protect one's assets should be encouraged by government;

WHEREAS Saskatchewan is the only jurisdiction in Canada to tax individual insurance products;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that a Saskatchewan Liberal government will remove Provincial Sales Tax from all insurance products sold in Saskatchewan.
